

Battery Safety Video Transcript

If you're recycling batteries or removing old batteries from devices to replace them with new ones, please make sure you dispose of the old batteries properly.

When charging your devices, do not leave them on continuous charge. Overcharging lithium-ion batteries can damage the batteries, which can lead to fires.

Stay safe, and be sure to monitor your devices while they are charging.